

DECLARATION OF MATTHEW RUBENSTEIN REGARDING PREPARATION TIME IN CASES AUTHORIZED FOR THE DEATH PENALTY

1. I am a Capital Resource Counsel attorney in the federal public defender program and a member of the Federal Capital Trial Project. The Capital Resource Counsel and the Federal Death Penalty Resource Counsel (FDPRC) projects comprise the Federal Capital Trial Project (or “Trial Project”).¹ Established in early 1992, a core function of the Trial Project is to provide consultation, training, and assistance to counsel and courts to improve the quality of representation and the cost-effectiveness of defense services in federal capital prosecution cases.² I joined the Trial Project in 2010 as a Capital Resource Counsel attorney, was the Director of the Capital Resource Counsel (CRC) project from 2015 to 2025, and recently transitioned back to an attorney position. The Trial Project is funded and administered by the Defender Services Office of the Administrative Office of the United States Courts.

2. My responsibilities in the Federal Capital Trial Project include the monitoring of all federal capital prosecutions throughout the United States to assist in the delivery of adequate

² The work of the Trial Project is described in a report prepared by the Subcommittee on Federal Death Penalty Cases, Committee on Defender Services, Judicial Conference of the United States, Federal Death Penalty Cases: Recommendations Concerning the Cost and Quality of Defense Representation (May 1998), at 28 – 30, http://www.uscourts.gov/sites/default/files/original_spencer_report.pdf [Perma.cc archive: <https://perma.cc/SU25-GWMV>]. The Subcommittee report “urges the judiciary and counsel to maximize the benefits of the Federal Death Penalty Resource Counsel Project . . . , which has become essential to the delivery of high quality, cost-effective representation in death penalty cases” Id. at 50.

An update to the Report states: “Many judges and defense counsel spoke with appreciation and admiration about the work of Resource Counsel. Judges emphasized their assistance in recruiting and recommending counsel for appointments and their availability to consult on matters relating to the defense, including case budgeting. Defense counsel found their knowledge, national perspective, and case-specific assistance invaluable.” Report to the Committee on Defender Services, Judicial Conference of the United States, Update on the Cost and Quality of Defense Representation in Federal Death Penalty Cases (September 2010) at 63. <https://www.uscourts.gov/sites/default/files/fdpc2010.pdf> [Perma.cc archive: <https://perma.cc/LPH6-K8QB>].

defense services to indigent capital defendants in such cases. This effort includes overseeing the collection of data on the initiation and prosecution of federal capital cases.³

3. Pursuant to these responsibilities, I have compiled the information in Exhibit A regarding proceedings in federal capital cases in the regular course of the business of the Federal Capital Trial Project. Forty-two defendants were authorized for a capital prosecution and began a federal capital trial since 2010. From this group, five cases were excluded from the time calculation because of extended delays in the cases caused by a retrial or the COVID pandemic.⁴

4. The average time between the capital indictment and the authorization of a capital prosecution by the Attorney General is 14 months. The average time between the authorization of a capital prosecution and the start of trial is 28 months. The average time between the capital indictment and the start of trial is 42 months.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States of America, 28 U.S.C. §1746, that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed this 22nd day of July 2025.
